

Progressive
United Methodists
in Conversation
and Action

Are you tired of being unheard or shouted down?

Have you experienced isolation when your own understanding of faith
didn't match those louder voices?

Is your faith calling you to act
boldly, but you're not sure where to start?

Do you consider yourself
progressive, or want to know more about exactly what that means?

Come connect with us

We—the Methodist Federation for Social Action—are progressive United Methodists connecting and putting our faith into action. Grounded in God's all-inclusive love and open to the Spirit's leading in the current age, we are acting out of a deep spiritual yearning for justice and peace, following the radical teaching and example of Jesus.

Starting in May of 2010, progressive United Methodists are gathering in homes, cafes, and online to talk about their beliefs—including what it means to be "progressive." To find out more about the Connecting Voices initiative, including meet-ups in your area and how to host an event, visit mfsaweb.org and click on "Connecting Voices."

About MFSA

The Methodist Federation for Social Action envisions a healed, renewed and fully inclusive United Methodist Church, which embodies God's transforming love and grace in the world.

MFSA mobilizes, leads and sustains a progressive United Methodist movement that energizes people to be agents of God's justice, peace and reconciliation.
